

Data Protection Health Check

Having clear and robust data protection policies is essential to comply with your obligations to supporters, customers, clients and partners, and will also simplify any dealings with regulators.

Whether you need to draft policies from scratch or are looking to review your current data handling practices, our team can help you to deal with your data protection challenges.

We advise on data and privacy compliance across all sectors, from tech startups to established businesses, charities, not-for-profits and the public sector. Every organisation faces unique challenges, and we adapt our approach and advice to meet your needs.

If you would like to discuss any of the packages below or are interested in a bespoke package that works for you, please get in touch to arrange an initial call.

Template policies

Why is this important?

For early-stage organisations, it's important to set up the basics well. We'll provide you with template privacy, cookie and data protection policies that you can adapt to suit your organisation's needs.

What's included?

- Template Privacy Policy
- Template Cookie Policy
- Template Data Protection Policy

Compliance essentials

Why is this important?

Our compliance essentials package is well suited for organisations looking to conduct a review of data protection compliance. We'll work with you to ensure your policies comply with the relevant regulatory requirements in your sector.

What's included?

- Privacy Policy
- Cookie Policy
- Data Protection Policy
- Data Retention Policy

Information security

Why is this important?

With data breaches increasing, data subject requests becoming more common and growing scrutiny over the use of personal data in AI software and tools, robust information security governance is no longer optional. We'll work with you to draft key policies which will protect your organisation, meet regulatory expectations and maintain trust.

What's included?

- Data Subject Request Policy
- Data Breach Policy
- Information Security Policy
- AI Policy

Full MOT

Why is this important?

Our full MOT is for organisations looking to conduct an in-depth review of data protection compliance. We'll work with you to review your full suite of data protection policies, drafting from scratch where needed, and advising on areas where you can improve your current procedures.

This package is also suitable for early-stage organisations looking to invest in compliance from day one.

What's included?

- Privacy Policy
- Cookie Policy
- Data Protection Policy
- Data Retention Policy
- Data Subjects Request Policy
- Information Security Policy
- Data Breach Policy
- AI Policy